

Three Billy Goats Gruff

Fairy Tales and Nursery Rhymes

We love this classic tale of goats and trolls at Rochester Bridge Trust because it features a bridge. Some people may say the goats are the star roles, but we know better...

Or read the book. We like this version (but others are available): The Three Billy Goats Gruff (My First Fairy Tales) by Mara Alperin with Kate Pankhurst.

Can you 'build' a bridge using your furniture and act out the story?

How about doing some junk modelling? Using some basic recycling, boxes, tubes etc, see what you can build. Can you build a tall tower or a house from your 'junk'?
Then have fun knocking it down and starting again!

Can you build your own bridge out of building blocks or wooden bricks?

How about using junk/recycling and building a model bridge? You could draw out your design and explain how your design works to an adult.

You could make your own puppets and re-tell the story, perhaps changing the ending. Simple stick puppets can be found here on Twinkl:

Or how about making masks and doing a bit of role play? How do you think the Troll would feel to have noisy goats going across his roof?
